Is the Internet a good thing or a bad thing? Write a letter to a newspaper giving your views on the Internet. (Write about 200 words) – example answer

Dear Editor,

I think the internet is a good thing. In fact I can't imagine my life without it!

The internet helps you learn about other cultures and lifestyles. Every evening on my laptop I can chat to people all over the world. I have friends who live in the USA and in Australia, as well as in Europe.

You can use the internet for shopping. You can buy anything online these days - books, jewellery, clothes, groceries, the list is endless. Then you can have it delivered to your door.

You can find out anything on the internet. My family uses it all the time for school and work and for entertainment. You can upload music and movies, watch TV programmes and play interactive games.

Email is used a lot in business, these days. It is also excellent for keeping in touch with family and friends. It is a very cheap way to communicate. Many services are offered on the internet, such as online banking. You can also book hotels and get tickets for concerts.

I know many people think that the internet is a bad thing and we are better off without it, but I couldn't live without it,

Yours faithfully,
